

JUNE 19 TH. 2017 | COPENHAGEN

The Danish Competition and Consumer Authority and Copenhagen Economics invite you to the conference on digital competition and price differentiation to be held on 19 June 2017. The conference will look into the implications of increased digitalization and computer algorithms on competition, focusing on key aspects such as pricing and market power.

The conference presents a number of top competition experts as speakers. We expect a very interesting discussion. We therefore hope you will join us in the discussion of how to adapt to the “new world order” with an increasing digitalization.

Confirmed speakers/discussants:

Tommaso Valletti, Chief Competition Economist, DG Competition, European Commission

Ariel Ezrachi, Slaughter and May Professor of Competition Law, University of Oxford

Damien Geradin, Partner, Euclid Law and Professor, Tilburg University

Georgios Petropoulos, Research Fellow, Bruegel

Christian Schultz, Chairman of the Danish Competition Council

Marc Lebourges, Director of European Regulation and Economic Studies, Orange

Maurits Bruggink, Secretary General of EMOTA

Moderator:

Bruno Basalisco, Managing Economist – Service leader for Digital Economy

Register: Here, registrations remain open

Date: June 19th 2017 from 14.30 - 17.30. Registration opens at 14.15. Refreshments and networking at 17:30

Venue: Langebrogade 1, 1411 Copenhagen, Denmark

Organizers: Copenhagen Economics and the Danish Competition and Consumer Authority

Price: Participation is free of charge